

Objective (CG4) 5\8\2025

Thank you, Co-Chairs.

We also align with the views expressed by Saudi Arabia China, India, Kuwait, and others: that our objective must be clear, achievable, feasible, and accessible. While ending plastic pollution is a critical goal, we must also acknowledge the essential role that plastics play in modern society, including in supporting health, safety, and economic development. Any objective that fails to take this reality into account risks being disconnected from practical implementation and societal needs.

The objective of this instrument is to address plastic pollution, through equitable measures that reflect national circumstances and contribute to the right of development and poverty eradication."

Thank you.
