Egypt’s Submission on Part 1.2 of The Revised Zero draft on objective

Egypt is in a complete alignment with the African group position with minor addition to the text as follows:

The objective of this instrument is to protect human health and the environment from the adverse effects of plastic pollution, including in the marine environment based on a comprehensive approach that addresses the full life cycle of plastic according to national priorities and to achieve sustainable development.

In addition, Egypt believes that there is an urgent need for a clear definition for the plastic Lifecycle to be addressed in the treaty and empathising on not having a time line specified in the objectives.
