CLOSING REMARK

There must be no false distinction between reflection and action because the power we hold together in form of a legally binding instrument on plastic pollution, including the marine environment is our immediate goal, and all stakeholders should be in arms on every front in demand to see it function effectively. Thank You