

India

Scope

Scope is very important.

As the present Chairs Text is overlapping with the provisions of other international instruments and treaties there is a need to define the scope of the treaty.

This will ensure that provisions under this treaty is not encroaching in the areas which are specifically covered under separate treaties and being enforced at present as well.

The scope should be as per UNEA 5/14 resolution to address plastic pollution including in marine environment.