Qatar selects Option Zero, deferring this discussion to waste management section.

We think Producers are already answering market demand, by providing valuable goods that humanity requires for their welfare, flourishing and even basic survival.

Restriction or impedance of these essential goods will reduce their affordability and availability to those most in need.